KWOK YIH & CHAN
郭葉陳律師事務所

Conrad is one of the founding partners of Kwok Yih & Chan, an independent firm in Hong Kong. Prior to founding the firm, he was a partner of a major international law firm.

Conrad specialises in public takeovers, cross border M&As, private equity transactions, restructurings, capital markets, ESG and corporate governance and regulatory investigation. Over the last 30 years, he has been regularly advising and representing corporates, investment banks, private equity firms and start-ups from their daily legal and regulatory compliance to complex transactions. As a seasoned practitioner, he has spearheaded many innovative transactions involving complex structure and navigation of new rules and standards. His 2023 highlights include: closed a complex multi-jurisdictional debt restructuring for a HKEx listed mining group involving offshore debts governed by New York law and onshore debts governed by PRC laws; represented several HKEx listed companies in successfully defending against the Hong Kong Stock Exchange's delisting claims and with trading resumed; advised a Hong Kong based bio-tech company in its pre-IPO round of funding.
